you may ask. We are. Or, if we aren't, we should work harder at being funny. Here at Annie Wright, we have high expectations. We expect high-quality academics taught by challenging teachers, and honest, hard-working students who value their education. But ask most studentsaroundhere, and the u'll admit that the workload gets tough at times-not necessarily because teachers are too intense or because classmates are competitive. but simply because each student pushes himself or herself to achieve the best that he or she can. With this in mind, the Yearbook staff of 2006 has decided to tell everyone to take a step back for a moment and laugh. Relax. Let go of the major stresses in your life, and have some fun. Studying is important, but if we focus too closely on the serious side of life, we'll wake up one day and realize we have no life outside of school. So jump into these "A-Dub Funnies" with us; we've captured a wild, animated world between these pages. We promise it's been worth the wait.

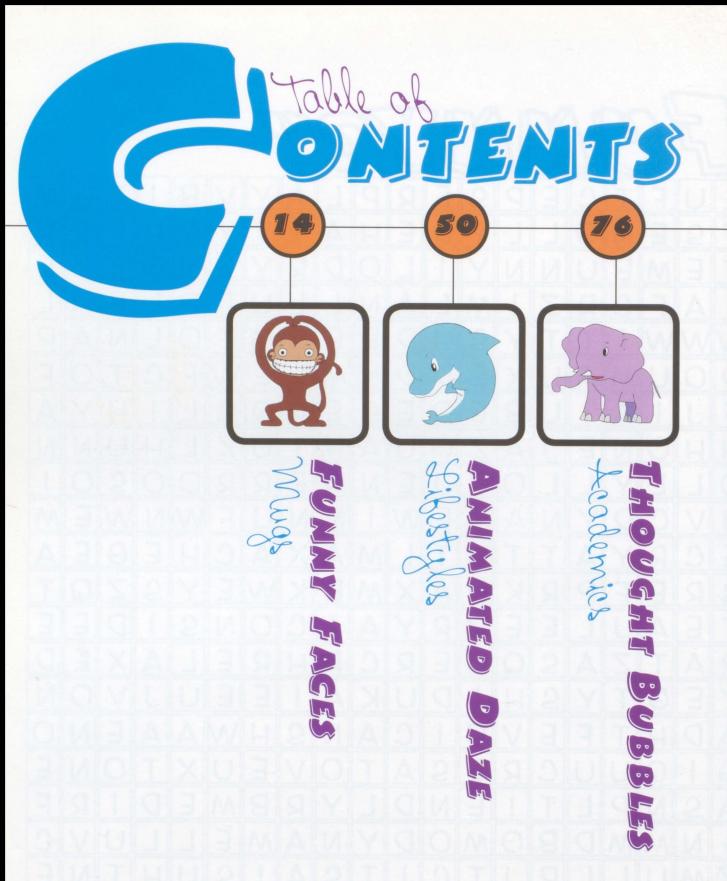

We can hear you saying, Yeah, yeah, what ever," so let's get it started already! Try our word search challenge to get things rolling.

POWER TO THE

State of the State

JESIJES Yearbook Dedication

Where can you go bor a little bun around here?

The answer: the Tech Department. Lisa Jones, Bill Wellington, and Kwame Pobee are three of the most lively, in-touch, "animated" characters at Annie Wright. Each of them combines, in his or her own uniqueway, the qualities that make this school great: endless energy, a mischievous sense of humor, the helpfulness and compassion of Mother Teresa, and the dedication to see us through any sized virus or network shutdown. Youmayask. "What have they done for me lately?" Well, probably something. They have rescued the yearbookfromcountless crises with a calm air of confidence and a reassuring word. They operate under a low profile down in the Swamp, but are ready to play center stage at the drop of a hat when the time calls. We in the entire school are, in return, indebted to them forallthattheydotokeep us going. With smiles on our faces and a little boogie in our steps, the Yearbook staff of 2006

Goodbye Seniors!

From the Yellow Tie Class

From the Blue Tie Class

Seniors.

As you go off into the world, the green ties want to leave these few precepts in thy memory:

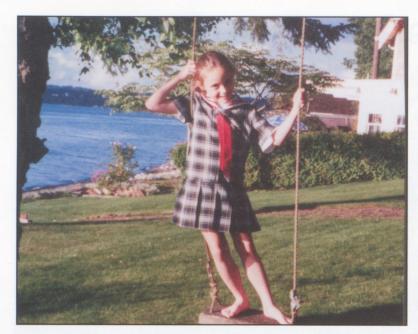

Give thy thoughts no tongue. Nor any unproportioned thought his act. Be thou familiar but by no means vulgar. Those friends thou hast, and their adoption tried. Grapple them to thy soul with hoops of steel. But do not dull the palm with entertainment Of each new-hatch'd, unfledged comrade. Beware of entrance to a quarrel, but being in. Bear't that the opposed may beware of thee. Give every man thy ear, but few thy voice: Take each man's censure but reserve thy judgement Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy, But not express d in fancy: rich, not gaudy. Neither a borrower nor a lender be: For loan oft loses both itself and friend. This above all: to thine ownself be true. And it must follow, as the night the day, Thou cans't not then be false to any man. Farewell: our blessing season this in thee.

LATER, GATORI A few Last Words...

. Jakasri Ghosh

"All across the school, we have been talking about meeting the challenges of the 2lst century. Annie Wright School strengthens habits of the mind, the heart and the spirit in ways that enable us to be part of the solution to these challenges. It is also about celebrating every moment we have together as a community. Thank you to all for an inspiring year."

-Dr. Jayasri Ghosh, Head of School.
